ANNUAL REPORT

OF THE

ATTORNEY GENERAL.

OF THE

STATE OF MICHIGAN,

FOR

THE YEAR 1883.

BY AUTHORITY.

REPORT.

STATE OF MICHIGAN, }
ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OFFICE, }
Lansing, December 31, 1883.

To His Excellency, Josiah W. Begole, Governor :

In obedience to the duty imposed upon me by the laws of this State, I have the honor herewith to submit to you, and through you to the Legislature, my Annual Report.

Schedule "A" embodies those cases in the Supreme Court in which I appeared on behalf of the State, together with remarks on the nature of the cause and the disposition made thereof by the court.

Schedule "B" is a report of chancery cases, in which the State is interested, commenced in various circuits during the past year, and which have been referred to the prosecuting attorneys of the respective counties, in accordance with established usage.

The Appendix contains an abstract of the reports of the several prosecuting attorneys throughout the State, and shows the criminal causes prosecuted in the lower courts on behalf of the people, together with the character of the several offenses, their number, and the sentence imposed upon the offenders.

There is a gradual increase in the business of this department, both in the number of State cases and in their importance. The volume of correspondence has also greatly increased, while the numerous opinions solicited by those who are legally entitled to them, and also by those who are not, make a heavy demand upon the time of the Attorney General. Written opinions have been uniformly furnished as prescribed by law, and, so far as possible, they have, as a matter of courtesy, also been extended to those not entitled to them.

Proceedings will be shortly be taken in the Supreme Court to test the legality of the corporate existence of the Detroit, Grand Haven & Milwaukee Railway Co., and to compel the company, if possible, to reorganize under the general railroad law of the State, thereby greatly increasing the tax to which the State would be entitled; and also to settle other vexed questions which have taken up the attention of the Legislative committees for many years past, and which can only be settled by a decision of the Supreme Court. Proceedings against the Erie & Kalamazoo railroad are also contemplated. This case is brought to test the right of a company, after having located its roads, depots, and stations at a village, to abandon a portion of the road, leaving the village without railroad facilities.

It has long been a matter of regret that this department possessed no file of its own reports (there being nothing complete earlier than 1860), and the Attorney General has been unable, in consequence, to answer questions constantly addressed to this office. Other matters of record were also lacking through the changes of time and the vicissitudes of a new country, and unless steps were taken to gather these, they would soon be beyond recovery, hence efforts were directed to this end, and after extensive correspondence and much labor, the records of the office are perfected and put in convenient form for reference.

I am under great obligations to Mrs. Mary A. Miles, the efficient clerk of this office, for the manner in which this work has been done, and also for the historical and biographical sketches included in this report, which contain much that is worthy of preservation, as illustrating the early workings of the Attorney General's office. Yours respectfully,

J. J. VAN RIPER,
Attorney General.

SCHEDULE A.

TABLE OF CASES ARGUED IN THE SUPREME COURT OF THE STATE.

January Term, 1883.

1. The People vs. John Jones. Error to Hillsdale. Jones was convicted of larceny of horses. The court below had power to sentence respondent for a period not exceeding five years. To this extent the judgment was affirmed. The Court concur in the opinion that the Act of 1877 should be repealed, because it provides for a heavier punishment for a person convicted of horse-stealing, than is provided upon a conviction for manslaughter.

2. The People vs. Jay Mead. Error to Shiawassee. Respondent was convicted of burglary. Conviction affirmed.

3. The People vs. Perly W. Pearsoll. Exceptions before judgment from Kent. Mead was convicted of larceny. The refusal of a court to grant a new trial cannot be reviewed in reviewing the main case. Held that it could not be said that the jury might not have been misled by the charge of the Court. Reversed.

4. The People vs. Louis Gale. Exceptions before judgment from the Superior Court of Grand Rapids. Gale was convicted of the crime of forgery. The exceptions were overruled and the Court advised to proceed to judgment.

5. The People vs. William I. Howard. Exceptions before judgment from Kent. Respondent was convicted of unlawful solicitation of insurance. Foreign companies organized to do business not open to citizens generally, cannot carry on business in Michigan unless express or implied permission is given them to do so. Exceptions overruled and the court must proceed to judgment.

6. The People vs. George E. Long. Exceptions before judgment from Berrien. Long was prosecuted for the larceny of a buggy and convicted. Exceptions overruled and the Court advised to proceed to judgment.

7. The People vs. Charles A. Stickney. Error to Mecosta. The Attorney General confessed error. The Court ordered the judgment reversed and the respondent discharged.

April Term, 1883.

1. The People vs. Edward F. Reilly. Certiorari to Recorder's Court of Detroit. Respondent was convicted for pool-selling. Held, that pool-selling is not punishable as the offense of lottery. Conviction quashed.

2. The People vs. Henry Parkhurst. Error to Muskegon. Parkhurst was convicted of embezzlement. A sentence of imprisonment exceeding the limit allowed by statute can be reversed only for the excess.

3. The People vs. William Piper. Exceptions before judgment from Muskegon. Respondent was convicted of being a disorderly person. Proceedings set aside and respondent discharged.

4. The People vs. George Howard. Exceptions from Recorder's Court of Detroit. Howard was convicted of larceny from the person. Conviction affirmed.

June Term, 1883.

1. Walter Crane vs. the Secretary of State. Mandamus. Writ denied, but without costs.

2. The People vs. Walter Lepper. Error to Mecosta. Lepper was informed against for grand larceny, and convicted on his own plea of guilty. Affirmed.

3. The People vs. George W. Burt. Error to Livingston. Respondent having been convicted of murder was sentenced to twenty years imprisonment. The Attorney General, after careful consideration of the subject, confessed error. The Supreme Court sustained his opinion. Reversed.

4. The People vs. Frank Weithoff. Exceptions before judgment from the Recorder's Court of Detroit. Weithoff was convicted of unlawful keeping and maintaining of a gaming room, contrary to the provisions of the statute. Exceptions overruled.

5. The People vs. Sophie Lyons. Error to Washtenaw. Respondent was convicted of larceny. Reversed.

6. The People vs. Dan Van Wagner. Error to Kalamazoo. Van Wagner pleaded guilty to a charge of assault with intent to murder, and six years after judgment sued out a writ of error. Writ dismissed.

7. The People vs. Frank Lewis. Certiorari to Oceana. Convicted of larceny from a dwelling in the day time. Affirmed.

8. Philip S. Hamilton's case. Certiorari to Ionia. Hamilton was convicted of the violation of Act 286 of the Session Laws of 1879, and the Act 156 amendatory thereof of the Laws of Michigan, 1881. He was discharged upon writ of habeas corpus. The order of discharge vacated.

9. The People vs. John Allen. Exceptions before judgment from Allegan. Respondent was convicted of drunkenness. Affirmed.

October Term, 1883.

1. The People vs. Elien C. Bemis. Error to Ionia. Respondent was convicted of murder of Will Henderson. Affirmed.

2. The People vs. John Dolan. Exceptions before sentence from Washtenaw. Dolan was convicted of a violation of the statute relating to closing saloons on election days. Two juries were sworn to try the case, and the first had not been discharged by the court when the trial commenced before the second. Two juries cannot be sworn to try the same case. Conviction set aside and prisoner discharged.

3. The People vs. Hugh Wolcott. Exceptions before sentence from Kalamazoo. Wolcott was convicted of the larceny of a quantity of wheat. The evidence was in part circumstantial, and in part consisted in the respondent's confessions. Conviction set aside and a new trial ordered.

4. The People vs. Charles Quick. Exceptions before judgment from Oakland. Quick was convicted of the larceny of a watch. The question at issue was the felonious intent. Reversed.

THE ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OFFICE.

HISTORICAL AND BIOGRAPHICAL.

[Abridged form.]

BY MARY A. MILES.

The Attorney General's office came into existence by the passage of "An Act, concerning the duties and appointment of Attorney General," January 29, 1807, nearly two years after Michigan was erected into a territory. The same year Congress passed new land grants, and cases of increased importance arose in the courts.

Though Detroit was the territorial capitol and chief settlement, it, as yet, contained no government buildings, and the private law office of each successive attorney general became also the law office for the State.

By the act of 1807, the Governor was vested with the power of appointing the attorneys general. The duties of the office were substantially the same as they are at present, and the salary was fixed at fifty dollars per annum. Six months later, however, the act was amended by reducing the salary one half.

The revolution of the territorial government in 1823 necessarily extended to the department of justice, and by the advice of Gov. Cass, the office of attorney general was abolished, and district attorneys were substituted for prosecuting attorneys. This change, however, was of short duration, and the office was revived April 27, 1825.

At this time water navigation made emigration easy, the territory began to be rapidly settled, and new counties and townships were organized. After the removal of the seat of government to Lansing, for the first time in the history of Michigan, the State furnished an office for the attorney general. This was on the first floor of the old State house, directly north of the supreme court room. As both May and October terms of the supreme court were still held in Detroit, while the January and July terms only, were held in Lansing, it was not deemed needful to keep open the attorney general's office except during the terms of court, and on special occasions, and hence the room was much of the time used for other purposes. The office of attorney general ceased to be appointive January 1, 1851, Mr. Hale being the first attorney general elected by the people.

Upon the completion of the State office block in 1871, the attorney general's office occupied a room on the third floor, west of the judge's room. It had a north frontage, and was conveniently near the State library and supreme court room. This was the best apartment provided by the State before the erection of the new capitol. It consisted of a room 20 feet by 16 feet, lighted by gas and heated by hot air, and was neatly carpeted with ingrain. One corner of the room was separated from the rest of the apartment by a board partition about half the height of the wall, for the reception of a bed, and for use as a store-room. Later on, the bed was removed. The furniture was scanty and of the plainest description. The office library consisted of the Michigan reports, and the joint documents, and the files of the daily newspapers were suspended upon a rod hung upon the wall.

In accordance with the laws of 1873 all the terms of Supreme Court were held in Lansing. From this time onward a resident clerk has been employed, and the office has been kept open for the transaction of business.

The new State Capitol was completed in the autumn of 1878, and the Attorney General's office established in its appointed place. It is on the third floor, on the left hand side of the east corridor, opposite the Supreme Court room. The office is spacious, convenient, and elegant in its appointments. The office library is slowly growing, and promises to become a valuable auxiliary to the State work. A large store-room furnishes space for the overflow of documents and also for office supplies.

Twenty-three Attorneys General have served as State officers, five of whom belonged to the territorial administration. Their names are:

Elijah Brush, Harris Hampden Hickman, Charles Larned, William A. Fletcher, Henry S. Cole, Daniel Le Roy, Peter Morey, Zephaniah Platt, Elon Farnsworth, Henry N. Walker, Edward Mundy, George V. N. Lothrop, William Hale, Jacob M. Howard, Charles Upson, Albert Williams, William L. Stoughton, Dwight May, Byron D. Ball, Isaac Marston, Andrew J. Smith, Otto Kirchner, and Jacob J. Van Riper.

MR. ELIJAH BRUSH

was a native of Bennington, Vt. After graduating at Dartmouth college he studied law and established himself in Detroit, Mich., then a village of about five hundred inhabitants. In those turbulent times he distinguished himself both as a lawyer and as a soldier. Col. Brush was actively engaged in the war of 1812. He served the territory as Attorney General until 1809. He was counsel in the first test case involving the right to hold slaves, ever tried in Michigan. Brush street, Detroit, was named for him. He died, while yet in his prime, Dec. 14, 1814, at the age of 42 years.

MR. HARRIS HAMPDEN HICKMAN succeeded Col. Brush as Attorney General Sept. 22, 1809. Very little is known of him. It is believed that he was a relative of Gov. Hull, and it is certain that in 1812 he accepted an appointment as captain in the United States infantry, and was included in the surrender of Detroit. It is presumed that he was killed in the war of 1812. It is probable that Mr. Hickman held the office of Attorney General until his death, as no record of his removal exists. When the confusion produced by the war had subsided, about the year 1814, was appointed Attorney General. He served without interruption until the office was abolished in 1824, and when the office was revived, eight months later, Mr. Larned was again appointed, and continued to perform the duties incumbent upon him until Nov. 11, 1825, when he resigned the office which he had so long and worthily filled.

Mr. Larned was a native of Massachusetts, and graduated at Williams College in 1806. He was a student in the law office of Henry Clay, of Kentucky, during 1811. Upon the outbreaking of the war of 1812 he joined the famous Kentucky regiment, which fought its way through the wilderness toward Detroit, and suffered such terrible slaughter from the British and Indians on the banks of the River Raisin. For gallant service he was promoted to the rank of major. Subsequently he conducted the difficult negotiations of the Black Hawk war, and took foremost rank as a lawyer, being especially distinguished as an eloquent advocate. The street in Detroit upon which his residence was situated was for him named Larned street. He was made brigadier general of the militia of Michigan, and was the friend and confidential adviser of Gen. Cass and Gov. Porter. He departed this life August 13, 1834.

was appointed to fill the vacancy occasioned by the resignation of Gen. Larned.

Mr. Fletcher was a native of New Hampshire. He engaged in mercantile business in Salem, Mass., in 1813, which he soon abandoned—removed to Schoharie county, N. Y., and devoted himself to the study of the law, and in due time was admitted to the bar. He removed to Detroit, Mich., in 1821, and entered upon the practice of his profession. He held the office of Chief Justice of Wayne County, and subsequently was appointed Attorney General, serving eight years. Here his distinguished learning came into requisition in shaping the affairs of the growing Territory, and in the discharge of his regular official duties.

In 1833 he was appointed judge,—for a circuit embracing in its jurisdictional limits all the organized counties of Michigan except Wayne, both common law and chancery actions being heard therein. When the Supreme Court was organized for the State government, Judge Fletcher was appointed Chief Justice of the Bench, where he served with distinction until his resignation in 1842. He prepared the Revised Statutes of 1837. Judge Fletcher died at his residence in Ann Arbor in 1853.

MR. HENRY S. COLE

was the next incumbent of the Attorney General's office. He removed from his native place, Canandaigua, N. Y., in 1827 or '28 to Detroit, Mich., and soon became an able and successful member of the bar. During the administration of Mr. Cole occurred the long territorial boundary struggle, and the adoption of the State constitution. It is probable that Mr. Cole continued in office from the time of his appointment as Attorney General in 1833, until his death in 1836. He was much beloved and lamented.

MR. DANIEL LE ROY

was born in Nova Scotia, May 17, 1775, and was reared and educated in Nova Scotia and Binghamton, N. Y. He belonged to the vast array of self-made men, gaining knowledge by studying evenings by the light of pine knots. At the age of twenty-five he was admitted to the bar of the State of New York, and a little later, to the highest courts of the State, the examinations being conducted by the distinguished Chancellor Kent. Mr. LeRoy removed to Michigan in 1818, and rose rapidly into favor as a lawyer. He successively filled the various offices connected with his profession, including those of United States Attorney for the Territory, Chief Justice of Wayne County Court, Commissioner to adjust the Michigan Boundary in 1835, and Presidential Elector in 1836. In Judge LeRoy's Commission as Attorney General, July 18, 1836, appears for the first time among his papers the present State seal of Michigan, his former commissions bearing the more significant seal of the Territory, with the beautiful motto, made famous by Prince Maurice of Orange nearly 300 years before.

Judge LeRoy was a democrat in politics, but subsequently espoused the Free Soil cause. He was an able lawyer and a valuable citizen. He died at Fentonville, Mich., February 11, 1858.

MR. PETER MOREY

was a native of Cazenovia, N. Y., and educated in the academy of Hamilton. He subsequently studied law and was admitted to the bar in 1831. Mr. Morey removed to Tecumseh, Mich., and thence to Detroit in 1837. He was appointed Attorney General, March 21st of the same year, which office he held for a term of four years. At that time the country was flooded with paper money which had no value in specie. The principal business of the Attorney General's office consisted in litigation relative to wildcat banks, those especially prominent being the banks of Oakland, Brest, and Monroe. Mr. Morey died at his residence at Marion, Ohio, in the autumn of 1881, at the advanced age of 83 years.

MR. ZEPHANIAH PLATT

was born Feb. 22, 1797, at Poughkeepsie, N. Y. He was descended on his mother's side from Robert Livingstone, and his paternal ancestors had been judges of the Supreme Court for three generations. He graduated from Hamilton College, and after completing his law studies, began practice in Western New York, but removed to New York city, where he was appointed Examiner in Chancery. In 1837 he removed to Kalamazoo, Mich., and thence to Detroit two years later. Mr. Platt was appointed Attorney General of Michigan in 1841, and served two years. During his administration the first system of absolutely free education was introduced into Detroit.

Mr. Platt resumed the practice of law in New York city in 1850, but afterward was appointed to adjust the claims of the United States on the South Pacific coast. Subsequently he was appointed judge of the second judicial circuit of South Carolina. He acquired much distinction upon the bench, and, after many years of service, died at Aiken, April 19, 1872.

MR. ELON FARNSWORTH

was born in Woodstock, Vt., February 2, 1799. He graduated at Middlebury College, having distinguished himself for his elegant learning and varied scholarship. He removed to Detroit, Mich., when twenty-three years of age, and entered the office of Mr. Sibley, the oldest member of the Territorial Bar, as a law student. He gradually acquired a reputation for extraordinary legal attainments, and his opinions were regarded as nearly infallible. Upon the organization of the State, Mr. Farnsworth was created chancellor. Says Chancellor Kent, "The administration of equity in Michigan under Chancellor Farnsworth was enlightened and correct, and does distinguished honor to the State. His services as Attorney General were performed with distinction." But impaired health compelled Chancellor Farnsworth to resign. After a season of rest, Gov. Barry persuaded him to accept an appointment as Attorney General, in 1843, an office which, at that time, was crowded with public litigation. In 1846 he permanently retired from practice, and devoted himself to the affairs of the Michigan Central Railroad, in the interest of which he visited the chief cities of the United States and Europe. He was President of Detroit Savings Bank, Regent of Michigan University for nineteen years, one of the projectors of the Insane Asylum at Kalamazoo, and one of the founders of St. Paul's Church, Detroit. Chancellor Farnsworth died March 24, 1877, at his residence in Detroit.

MR. HENRY N. WALKER

became a resident of Detroit, Michigan, in 1834, having removed from Fredonia, N. Y. He entered the office of Chancellor Farnsworth as a law student and, after his admission to the bar, formed a partnership with Asher B. Bates and Samuel I. Douglass. Mr. Walker directed his especial attention to real estate and chancery practice, ultimately became Master in Chancery, and had no superior at the Chancery bar of the State. He aided Chancellor Farnsworth in preparing the laws, organizing the court of Chancery, and also in compiling the body of rules governing the practice. Mr. Walker was admitted to the bar of the Supreme Court of the United States in January, 1836, upon motion of Hon. Daniel Webster, being the first lawyer admitted from Michigan Territory. He was appointed State Reporter in 1844, and published two volumes of Reports. In 1845 he received into partnership with him, a young man to whom he had been preceptor in the law, now widely known as an accomplished jurist and historian, Hon. James V. Campbell.

Mr. Walker was appointed Attorney General April 17, 1845, serving two years. During his administration, he negotiated the sale of the Michigan Central Railroad, and the State was enabled to rid itself of a business that involved difficulties not properly within State management.

In 1848 he began to devote much time to financial and railroad business, which gradually drew him out of legal practice, and, since 1851, he has spent several years in England and in the United States in Railroad and bank business. He was concerned in the measures which secured the building of the Sault Canal, also has done much to develop the mining interests of the Upper Peninsula, and was the largest subscriber to the establishment of the observatory at Ann Arbor. Mr. Walker is still an honored member of the bar of Detroit, where, it is hoped, many years of usefulness await him.

MR. EDWARD MUNDY

was born April 14, 1794, and was a native of New Jersey. He was graduated from Queen's college (now Rutgers) in 1812, after which he became a lawyer. He removed in 1819 to Illinois, then the "far west," but after establishing an excellent practice, a series of misfortunes occurred which swept away his home and property and he returned to New Jersey to retrieve his fallen fortunes. Mr. Mundy removed to Ann Arbor, Mich., in 1831, and was soon appointed associate judge of Washtenaw county. In 1835 he was elected member of the convention that framed the first constitution of Michigan. He was twice elected lieutenant governor of the State, serving from 1835 to 1840. As presiding officer of the Senate he proved popular, and unusually able and efficient. Subsequently he became regent of Michigan University. Mr. Mundy was elected Attorney General in 1847. During his administration the seat of government was removed from Detroit to Lansing, the geographical center of the State; and in the midst of a dense forest a State house of wood was erected. In 1841 he was appointed justice of the supreme court, and presiding judge of the sixth judicial circuit, upon which he removed to Grand Rapids, within the circuit. Here Judge Mundy resided until his death, which took place in the midst of his usefulness as a judge and as a citizen, March 13, 1851. Judge Mundy was a man of fine scholarship and incorruptible character, and his life was the exponent of manly service and Christian fidelity.

MR. GEORGE V. N. LOTHROP was born at Easton, Bristol county, Conn., Aug. 8, 1817, and his youth was spent upon his father's farm. He graduated from Brown University in 1838; and in the autumn of the same year he entered the law school of Harvard University, studying under Judge Story and Prof. Greenleaf. But severe study having impaired his health he visited Michigan in the spring of 1839 for the purpose of upbuilding it. In 1843 Mr. Lothrop removed to Detroit, Mich., where he has since resided, and entered the law office of Joy & Porter. The law partnership of Lothrop & Duffield was formed in 1844, and was continued until 1856.

Mr. Lothrop was appointed Attorney General in 1848, serving until January 6, 1851, and performing much important work for the State. He first introduced the use of official blanks for the several prosecuting attorneys of the State, thus securing more uniform and accurate returns of criminal business. Under his administration, also, a large amount of money was saved for the State in several closely contested cases.

He has always been a democrat of the school in which Benton, Silas Wright, and S. A. Douglas were representative leaders. Mr. Lothrop was a member of the constitutional convention of 1867. He led the Michigan delegation at the Charleston convention in 1860, and the Douglas sentiment in that body.

Mr. Lothrop's reputation as a lawyer is overshadowed by no member of the Michigan bar. At the very outset of his career, beginning in the winter of 1843, he practiced before the Supreme Court, and has continued to do so to the present time. For thirty years he has been the general attorney of the Michigan Central Railroad Company, and is the trusted adviser of many other corporations. The celebrated cases which he has conducted show the wide range of his powers as a lawyer, and give some hint of the breadth of his scholarship and of his vast technical knowledge. While his rare eloquence, his commanding presence, and his wonderful mastery of the purest and most classic English, give a power to his utterances which is only equalled by his life and character. The degree of Doctor of Laws was conferred upon Mr. Lothrop by Brown University.

MR. WILLIAM HALE

was born at Paris Hill, near Utica, N. Y. He studied law with Judge T. C. Chittenden, of Watertown, N. Y. Not long after his admission to the bar, he removed to Detroit, Mich., where he resided for more than thirty years. He served one term as prosecuting attorney of Wayne county; was also State senator, and in 1857 and 1860 was member of the common council of Detroit.

Mr. Hale was elected Attorney General in 1850 under the new constitution, defeating Austin Blair; and he was re-elected in 1852. In 1863 he removed to California. Judge Hale died at his residence in San Francisco, Cal., February 4, 1873.

MR. JACOB M. HOWARD

was born in Shaftsbury, Vt., July 10, 1805. After preliminary study at Bennington and Brattleborough academies, he entered Williams college, from which he graduated in 1830. He removed to Detroit, Mich., in 1832, and entered the office of Gen. Larned, as a law student, and was admitted to the territorial bar in 1833. From the first, Mr. Howard took high rank as a lawyer, both in counsel and in practice. He was elected to Michigan Legislature in 1838, and in 1840 he was elected representative to congress. His participation in public life compelled him to partially abandon the practice of his profession, and from 1845 to 1848 he devoted much time to literary pursuits, for which he had great fondness. In 1847 he translated from the French, "The Secret Memoirs of the Empress Josephine," and throughout his career he constantly wrote editorials for the city newspapers, but not under his own name. A few years later Mr. Howard conducted cases that will long be remembered in the annals of the bar, among which were the "Railroad conspiracy" and the "Express robbery" cases, in which he displayed remarkable legal acumen and unrivaled eloquence. In 1854 he drew the first platform ever constructed for the republican party, and was chiefly instrumental in bestowing upon it its present name. Mr. Howard was elected attorney general upon the first republican State ticket, and was twice reelected, serving from 1855 to 1861. In the legitimate work of an attorney general Mr. Howard has had no superior. Many important cases had accumulated, and the amount of business thrown upon him in the supreme court was very great. He succeeded in breaking up the largest, best organized, and most extensive confederation of criminals in the United States. In the celebrated "Phoenix Bank" case and others, he recovered large sums for the State.

Mr. Howard was elected to the United States Senate in 1862 and reelected in 1865 for the next full term. In the Senate the great ability of Mr. Howard met instant recognition, and his services to the State and nation were of the highest character. His first great speech in the Senate was made in 1862, on the "Confiscation Emancipation Bill."

In 1866 Williams College conferred upon him the degree of Doctor of Laws. Mr. Howard possessed a rich and varied scholarship. His style of speaking was decidedly forensic and senatorial. He had all the qualities of a good statesman, and he was never greater than when dealing with public affairs.

Mr. Howard was stricken down suddenly by apoplexy, and died April 2, 1871, at his residence in Detroit, in the fullness of his remarkable powers and influence.

was born at Southington, Conn., March 19, 1821. By persevering effort he succeeded in obtaining an excellent education, supporting himself meanwhile by teaching school. In the autumn of 1844 he entered the law school of Yale College, where he remained until the spring of 1845, when he removed to Michigan and settled in Constantine. He was admitted to the bar in 1847, and gradually drew to himself an extensive law practice. Mr. Upson removed to Coldwater in 1856, where he now resides. In 1854 he served as State Senator, and for four years was one of the Board of Railroad Commissioners. Mr. Upson was elected Attorney General of Michigan in 1860. During his administration occurred the famous case of "The People vs. John McKinney," in which the State Treasurer was arraigned for embezzlement, and sentenced to State prison. In the conduct of this suit Mr. Upson displayed ability of very high order. At the expiration of his term as Attorney General, he was elected Representative to Congress, and was reelected in 1864, and 1866.

For the succeeding two years Mr. Upson was Judge of the Fifteenth Circuit. He has also served the State in many important matters connected with his profession. In 1881 he was again elected State Senator.

Judge Upson is a gentleman of much culture, solid judgment, and extensive learning. He is still engaged in the active practice of his profession, greatly esteemed for his private virtues, as well as for his public services.

MR. ALBERT WILLIAMS

was born in Halifax, Vt., February 8, 1817. Accustomed from boyhood to rely upon himself, he set himself resolutely to the task and furnished the means for his thorough academic training in the State of New York, whence he removed to Michigan in 1844; in 1845 was admitted to the bar, and subsequently admitted to practice in the United States courts. Mr. Williams has resided in Ionia almost uninterruptedly since this period and here has won his laurels.

He represented Ionia county at the mass-meeting of July, 1854, in which the republican party was organized, and he established and edited the first republican newspaper in that county. Mr. Williams was elected Attorney General of Michigan, serving from 1863 to 1867.

During his administration occurred the struggle to resume unlawful banking, and his prosecution of the celebrated case of "The People ex. rel. Attorney General vs. Bank of Pontiac, etc." The counsel for the State was a gentleman who has since become known throughout this country and in Europe as a remarkable legal writer and jurist, Hon. T. M. Cooley. The cause was triumphantly carried for the State, and thus a final blow was given to the issue of irredeemable paper currency.

Mr. Williams united with the prohibitionists in 1870, but has since resumed his affiliation with the republican party. He has been a life-long temperance worker, and in kindliness of spirit, in deeds of benevolence, and in fearless championship of the right, he will long be remembered.

MR. WILLIAM L. STOUGHTON.

Is a native of Bangor, N. Y., born March 20, 1827. He received an academic education in Ohio and then turned his attention to the study of the law. He was admitted to the bar of the Supreme Court of Michigan in 1851, having previously removed to Constantine. In March, 1861, he was appointed United States District Attorney, for the district of Michigan, by President Lincoln, but after the Battle of Bull Run he offered his resignation and entered the army as lieutenant colonel of the 11th Michigan Infantry. Mr. Stoughton served through the war, first as colonel, next as brigadier general, and at the war's close, "for gallantry on the field," he was made brevet major general. Michigan has good reason to be proud of the soldierly qualities and fiery valor of General Stoughton.

At the battles of Stone River, Chickamauga, Rossville, Chattanooga, Mission Ridge, Resaca, and New Hope Church—wherever he was needed, whether on hotly contested fields or conducting a retreat with muffled wheels,—he was ever the same heroic, sagacious commander.

General Stoughton's leg was carried off by a cannon ball at the engagement at Ruff's Station, and, unfit for duty in the field, he returned home in 1864, and a year later resumed the practice of the law. In 1866 Gen. Stoughton was elected Attorney General, serving two years. He was then elected Representative to Congress from the 45th Congressional District, and re-elected in 1870.

Gen. Stoughton resides in Sturgis, attending to such duties as his health permits.

MR. DWIGHT MAY

was born Sept. 8, 1822, in Sandisfield, Berkshire county, Mass. In 1834 his parents removed to Kalamazoo, Michigan, where most of his life was spent. Mr. May graduated from Michigan University in 1849, from which three years later he received the degree of "Master of Arts." He studied law in the office of Lothrop & Duffield in Detroit, and was admitted to the bar in 1850, and to the United States Courts in 1861. At the breaking out of the rebellion Mr. May enlisted as a private in the Kalamazoo Light Guards, and by successive steps he was promoted to be Brigadier General, doing valiant service. In 1866 he was elected Lieutenant Governor of Michigan by 30,000 majority, and in 1868 he was elected Attorney General. During Mr. May's administration he carried some notable cases through the Supreme Court, among which were "Patten vs. People," "State Insurance Company case," and "People vs. Dowell." Mr. May was the second time elected Attorney General, and served during the years 1873 and 1874, as president of Kalamazoo village.

While in the army Gen. May contracted rheumatism, which finally caused his death, Jan. 28, 1880.

Resolutions of respect and affection were immediately passed by "The Veterans," "The Bar Association," and other societies, evincing profound sorrow over his death, and tender recognition of his noble character and achievements.

MR. BYRON D. BALL.

was a native of Michigan, born at Owosso, August, 1833. He received a good English education, which was supplemented by an academic course at Burlington, New Jersey. On returning to his home in Grand Rapids, Mr. Ball was for some time his father's confidential clerk and assistant. Soon after his majority, he married Miss Linnell, of Rochester, N. Y., and removed to Chicago, Ill., where for two years he engaged in a grain and commission business.

He returned to Grand Rapids in 1859, began the study of the law, and entered the first class of the Law School of Michigan University, graduating therefrom two years later, and began the practice of his profession.

In 1869, Mr. Ball closed out the steamboat and shipping business which had much engaged him, and devoted himself exclusively to his profession, at first without an associate, and later as senior member of the firm of Ball & Wolcott. Mr. Ball was elected State senator in 1870, and in 1872 he was elected Attorney General. He discharged the duties of Attorney General until the spring of 1874, when failing health compelled him to resign his office and retire from practice. Mr. Ball's health continued to decline, and a trip to Europe, made in the hope of gaining relief from his disease, proved of but little benefit, and he expired February, 1876, at his home in Grand Rapids.

MR. ISAAC MARSTON was born in Poyntzpass, Armagh, Ireland, Jan. 2, 1839. Mr. Marston emigrated to Southfield, Michigan, in 1856, and in 1859, with only thirty dollars in his pocket, he entered the law school of Michigan University, determined to win some of the prizes which learning and culture offer to pluck and perseverance. Graduating in 1861, he first settled in Alma, where his office and library were destroyed by fire. He then removed to Bay City where for months he had no clients. But the tide turned at length, important cases claimed his attention, and his business expanded into a large law practice.

He was successively elected justice of the peace, prosecuting attorney, city attorney, and representative to the Legislature. Upon the resignation of Attorney General Ball, Mr. Marston was appointed to fill the vacancy, April 1, 1874. He prosecuted and carried forward to a successful termination the "Land Fraud" cases, so the State did not lose an acre of land thereby. There were also under his administration, several cases of exceptional importance, among which were "The People, ex rel, John Sutherland, against the Governor;" "Conn. Mutual Life Insurance Co. vs. the State Treasurer;" "People vs. Board of Supervisors of St. Clair;" and "Tacker et al. vs. Ferguson et al.," which were successfully argued by Mr. Marston and Prof. Kent in the Supreme Court of the United States.

Some notable opinions also were given, among which was that upon the "Beard Claim" which saved for the State $28,000. Also that upon the "Constitutionality of the Joint Resolution, No. 25." The "Resolution" passed the Legislature, but the Governor referred it to the Attorney General, who reported against it in a masterly argument that has effectually closed the consideration of this subject in Michigan. Upon the election of Judge Christianity to the United States Senate in 1875, Mr. Marston was appointed to fill the vacancy upon the Supreme Bench. He was reelected for the full term in 1881, and continued to perform the duties of Judge, until his resignation, Feb. 28, 1883. His work upon the Bench may be found in Michigan Reports, Volumes 33 to 50 inclusive. Upon his retirement from the Bench, Mr. Marston removed to Detroit, where he still resides, engaged in the active practice of his profession.

MR. ANDREW JACKSON SMITH

was born September 2, 1818, near Chillicothe, Ohio. His mother died during his infancy, and his father removed to Indiana a few years later, and thence young Smith came to Michigan, finally settling in Cassopolis in 1847. Mr. Smith was admitted to the bar, for which he had fitted himself by the most strenuous exertions, in 1853. He was prosecuting attorney of Cass county for twelve years, embracing the period between the years 1854 and 1868, five of the terms being successive.

In his work as prosecuting officer, he paid special attention to the enforcement of the liquor laws, and saloons were reduced to a minimum in Cass county during his official term. He was elected Attorney General in 1874, serving one term. During his administration the constitutionality of the liquor law was tested, and, notwithstanding his personal objection to such an enactment and his preference for prohibitory legislation, he submitted an elaborate argument in support of it in the leading case of "Youngblood vs. Sexton." Mr. Smith was elected circuit judge of the second judicial circuit in 1878, and was re-elected in 1881, a position for which he was specially qualified and which he still holds. Judge Smith is still a resident of Cassopolis, where it is hoped many years of usefulness await him.

MR. OTTO KIRCHNER

was born at Frankfort-on-the-Oder, Prussia. His father emigrated to America and settled at Berlin, Ontario, Canada.

Here Mr. Otto Kirchner received an academic education and began the study of law, which he continued in Toronto, where he also attended lectures at Osgoode Hall. Still continuing his legal studies, in 1864, he engaged as corresponding clerk in the office of his uncle, Hon. Emil Anneke, then Auditor General of Michigan. He was appointed clerk of the Judiciary Committee of the House of Representatives in 1865. At the close of the Legislative session, Mr. Kirchner removed to Detroit and entered the law office of Maynard, Meddaugh & Swift, and there completed his legal studies. He was admitted to the bar November, 1866, upon examination by the Supreme Court, and the same day was admitted to practice in the Federal Courts. In 1876 Mr. Kirchner was made chairman of the republican city committee of Detroit, and was elected alternate to the republican convention in Cincinnati.

In the autumn of 1876, he was elected Attorney General of Michigan, and re-elected in 1878. Through some closely contested cases Mr. Kirchner has gained much for the State; notably, the "Chicago and Lake Huron Ry. Co." case, in which $30,882.78 was recovered, and in the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern R. R. case, in which $80,214.21 was paid into the Michigan treasury as the result of the suit.

Mr. Kirchner ranks as one of the ablest members of the Detroit bar, and as he is still a young man, greater professional honors may await him.

MR. JACOB J. VAN RIPER was born at Haverstraw, N. Y., March 8, 1838. At an early day he removed to New York City, where he continued to reside until nineteen years of age. He received an academic education, and removed from New York City to Cass county, Michigan, in 1857.

After attending the law school of Michigan University, he was admitted to the bar in June, 1862, first practicing in Dowagiac, then in Buchanan, where he now resides. He gradually drew to himself an extensive law practice, being eminently successful as a jury advocate. During the war he held the office of deputy collector of internal revenue for Cass county, and subsequently that of assistant assessor of internal revenue. Mr. Van Riper was elected member of the constitutional convention of 1876, and served on the judiciary committee and also on that of the bill of rights. In 1876 he was elected prosecuting attorney for Berrien county, and served two terms.

In March, 1880, he was appointed regent of Michigan University, vice Geo. L. Maltz, resigned, to fill the unexpired term, ending Dec. 31, 1885. In the autumn of 1880 Mr. Van Riper was elected Attorney General of Michigan, and was reelected in 1882. He has bestowed great care and unwearied labor upon his official duties, not only in the preparation and argument of State cases, but also in the examination of questions and in giving advice and opinions to the various officers of the commonwealth.

The most notable opinion of Mr. Van Riper is that given to the Auditor General, reviewing the action of Gov. Begole in attempting to remove Dr. Willson, trustee of the Asylum for the Deaf and Dumb, wherein the action of the Governor was by him held to be illegal, and his power to remove, in the manner and for the purposes alleged, denied; which opinion was sustained by the supreme court without a dissenting voice.

Among the most important cases of his administration are the "State Treasurer vs. Auditor General," "Chicago & Northwestern Railway Co. vs. the Auditor General," "The People ex. rel. Attorney General vs. The Detroit, Grand Haven & Milwaukee Railroad Co.," and "The State vs. Iron Cliffs Company."

Mr. Van Riper is a gentleman of much culture, and is widely read in literature, science, and political history. Travel through various parts of the continent has given him extended observation of men and things. Of undoubted integrity and large benevolence, he commands universal respect and esteem.
